PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES A WARNING

GERMANS FAIL IN 2 COUNTER ATTACKS

(By Associated Press)
Paris, July 26.—The Germans this morning launched a local attack against the position recently taken by the British in the Mestern Sector on the Flanders front. The War Office announced that the attack was repulsed after sharp fighting. Last night the Germans delivered an attack upon the British positions in the Hebuterne Sector on the front between Albert and Arras. The enemy was driven off with severe losses, leaving prisoners in the hands of the British.

FRENCH TAKE THREE MORE TOWNS

Paris, July 26.—Capture of the towns of Halle, Montonore and Oulchy near Chateau is announced by the War Office. The French took four cannons and many hundred prisoners in this fighting. Halle Montonore is slightly more than five miles directly south of Soissons on the Soissons Chateau-Thierry high road. Chateau is about seven miles south of Halle Montonore on the Soissons Chateau-Thierry railway line.

He Cautions All Citizens to Obey Law

No Citizen Can Be Accepted as Champion Of Liberty Who Does Not

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 26 (8.00).—President Wilson today, in a personal statement addressed to his fellow countrymen, denouncing mob spirit and mob action, called upon the nation to show the world that while it fights for democracy on foreign fields, it is not destroying democracy at home. The President referred not alone to mob action against those suspected of being enemy aliens or enemy sympathizers; he denounced most emphatically mob action of all sorts, especially lynchings, and while he did not refer specifically to lynchings of negroes in the South, it is known that he included them in his characterization of mob spirit as "a blow at the heart of ordered law and humane justice." It is known that the lynchings of negroes, as well as attacks upon those suspected of being enemies or sympathizers, have been used by the German propaganda throughout Central and South America as well as in Europe, to contend that the pretensions of the United States as a champion of democracy are a sham.

Deeply concerned by the situation, the President decided to address his fellow countrymen, and to declare

In Their Tracks Rather Than Americans Should Advance Further--Entire Ger- man Position Within American Salient Likely to Fall Any Moment

(By Associated Press)
With the American Army on the Alsace-Marne front, July 26.—The Franco-American troops northeast of Chateau-Thierry are fighting a battle of the woods which abound in this region. The Germans are fighting the rear guard of action with their artillery and machine guns and retiring gradually before the Allied Forces. The German infantry is not in evidence. The indications early today were that the enemy was making preparations for a fresh withdrawal. These have been struggling to hold the northern half of the forest of Fore and of the forest of Ris, but the Allies are making progress in the work of ousting him from the remainder of these woods.

The Allies moved up their heaviest artillery early today and were throwing shells into the German lines as far as Satory, 5 1-2 miles northeast of Aulchy-en-Chateau and beyond Peron-Tardonots, two miles southeast of Epagny. Positions to the south were also being harassed by allied shells.

With the French Army in France, July 26.—The entire German position within the American salient is such that it may fall at any instant as the result of some sharp forward movement by the Allies affecting a vital part. It is for this reason that the German Commanders have ordered their men to hold on at all costs while a defensive position is prepared upon which the German Army can fall back.

GERMANS ARE HOLDING SOISSONS

They Have Made Some Slight Advances --The Allies Have Lost Mercy

(By Associated Press)
London, July 26.—On all sides of the German salient the Allies are reported today to be continuing to make progress except on the heights behind Soissons. The German resistance to the French pressure has been very determined in this latter sector. The advances reported elsewhere are for the most part slight. On the other side of the salient just to the west of Rhems the Allies have lost the town of Mery and Hill 201 to a German counter attack, but retained Vigny and the greater part of the line there about looking toward Fismes. The Allies in this sector hold Marsaux, Boilly, St. Euphrates and Courten Woods. Between the Oureq and Chateau-Thierry the Franco-American line now shows an advance beyond the line of a week ago of from six to eight miles.

REBELLION REPORTED IN UKRAINE

(By Associated Press)
London, July 26.—A peasant rebellion has broken out in Ukraine on a formidable scale, according to information received today. Seventy-five thousand peasants, thirty assisting troops with their officers and instructors are advancing against the Germans, the captain of whom has withdrawn before the hostile advance, retreating to Kiev. The peasants are well armed.

WESTERN UNION UNDER INDICTMENT

(By Associated Press)
New York, July 26.—The Western Union Telegraph Company was indicted by the Federal Grand Jury here today on charges of having transmitted messages by mail.

AMERICANS CONTINUE THEIR PUSH

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 26.—American forces between the Oureq and the Marne continue to press back the enemy. General Pershing reports in his communique for yesterday, received today at the War Department. In their advance eastward they have taken the southern half of the Fore forest.

TURNED SIX-YEAR OLD BOY ADRIFT

U-Boat Captain Told of Previous Crime; Expressed Doubts if Victims of "Big Ship" Reached Shore.

Gloucester, July 26.—We got a big ship a few nights ago and turned the crew adrift. Among them was a six-year-old boy. It was a pretty rough night and I doubt if they got ashore. This careless statement, made by the commander of the German U-boat which sank the Gloucester fishing schooner Robert and Richard on Monday last, to Capt. Robert Wharton, owner of the boat, leads him to believe that there is at least another victim of their ruthlessness, not yet reported.

While the U-boat officer was searching the cabin of the schooner he picked up a photograph of Capt. Wharton's young sons, Robert and Richard. Commenting on their sturdy appearance, he made the remark which has caused considerable speculation. Capt. Wharton said when he first sighted the submarine it was coming from the north, a course which might indicate that the "big ship" was sunk off the Nova Scotia coast.

Capt. Wharton returned to his home here today after relating his experience to Naval Intelligence officers in Boston.

NEW CITY GARDEN SUPERVISOR

Mr. William Shuttleworth, former garden supervisor, who has been called for Military duty, will be succeeded by Harold P. Felter of New Hampshire College.

Mr. Felter is ready to give advice and assistance in any way possible. It is very important that the growing crops be kept in good condition so that the hard work already spent may not be wasted.

Mr. Felter will gladly visit any garden in the city upon request and give any help he can for each particular difficulty. He can be reached at his office at the Chamber of Commerce, opposite the Postoffice, telephone 970, or at his boarding place, 143 Richards avenue, telephone 1126-N.

Don't Stop Spraying

The necessity of spraying our potatoes constantly and thoroughly is brought home to us when we find in our gardens an occasional hill which is turning yellow and dying from blight. Hot muggy days, together with much rainy weather, presents ideal conditions for blight to spread rapidly. Once the disease gets started the damage is done, and no amount of spraying will restore the vines to a healthy condition.

Remember, it is not simply to kill the potato beetle, that we must spray, but to keep the vines green and thrifty looking.

Be sure to use the proper spray material. Arsenate of lead is an insecticide and will not prevent potato disease. It will control biting insects very effectively, but it will not remedy potato blight. Bordeaux Mixture, or Pyrox are the proper sprays to use from now until the end of the season.

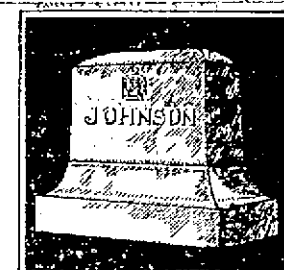

Apply these materials thoroughly. Be sure to cover all parts of the foliage. It is better to use a spray pump than a brush or cloth, because the pump drives the spray into the leaves and covers the plants more evenly.

The city spray pump will be at Number 277 Bennett street, (near the gardens) on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday of each week, and at the West street gardens on Wednesday and Friday.

H. P. FELTER,
City Garden Supervisor.

NO MORE EMERGENCY FLEET RATING

War Boards Ordered by Gen. Crowder to Refuse all Classifications and Must Not Grant Releases for Navy or Marine Corps Enlistments

No more releases will be granted by the Local War Board for registrants to enlist in the navy or marine corps or will they accept any more emergency fleet classifications.

This is the latest order received on Thursday from Provost Marshal General Crowder through Adjutant General Howard. This order means that until further notice every man either of the 1917 or 1918 class registrants, will not be allowed to take any service other than that of the army.

For the first time since the war started it stops all emergency fleet classification, for either navy yard or ship yards, which means that unless men of the draft age who are on the navy yard or engaged in shipbuilding, are already on the emergency fleet list they will have to take their turn in the draft calls.

The following 1918 registrants were put on the Emergency fleet list from the navy yard previous to the last order: H. C. Sweetser, Patrick J. Hennessey, H. G. Littlejohn and F. S. Snow all of this city. Other Emergency fleet classifications received in the past two days by the Local War Board are: Charles W. Han, William O. Murch, Amos Rodman, Alfred Macerelli, H. P. Lewis, Theodore H. Allen, Harry P. Oliver, John J. Grace, Samuel H. Alley and Alfred T. Jenkins all of the Atlantic Corporation, and W. R. Gupilli, C. M. Godfrey, C. H. Grant, W. J. Gudeau, of the navy yard.

They have received two calls, both small, August 1st, one colored man for Camp Devens, August 15th, three white men for Fort Slocum, for this the 1918 class men volunteers.

The physical examination of the 1918 men will be completed next Monday and it is falling below estimate. The number of men accepted for full service is less than one half of the examination each day, in fact it is falling below the 1917 registrants.

In the examination of Thursday out of twenty men only nine were accepted as physically fit. At this rate there is little doubt but what this class will be quickly exhausted, in as much as many of them have already enlisted in the navy or marine corps.

NAVAL CREWS FOR SHIPS

Washington, July 25.—Secretary Daniels yesterday confirmed reports that the Navy Department is preparing to extend its control of shipping used for military purposes. Although it was decided long ago that the manning of all transports and supply ships would be left to the Navy, a considerable number of vessels in both classes still have civilian crews. General George Goethals, director of transportation for the Army, understood to have recommended that this tonnage be turned over to naval reserve crews as rapidly as possible, because of the greater efficiency and economy in operation.

Still further extension of the Navy's control to include all tonnage connected in any way with military operations is being considered. It was learned authoritatively. Under the plan all transatlantic vessels being used to carry war supplies to the Allies or raw materials to be used in making supplies would be manned by naval crews. That would place the great bulk of all American deepwater tonnage under the Navy.

CLAIMS HE SUNK BIG SHIP BEFORE SCHOONER

(By Associated Press)
Gloucester, Mass., July 25.—The Gloucester fishing schooner Robert and Richard off Cape Porpoise on Monday morning sank a big ship on a Sunday according to remarks made by the Gloucester officer who boarded the Robert and Richard. Captain Walton did not remember the remark until today. It was while the officer was searching the cabin of the Captain that he came upon a picture of his two sons Robert and Richard for whom the schooner was named, he remarked upon Robert and Richard for whom the schooner was named, he remarked upon how sturdy they were and said that Sunday they had sunk a big ship and had turned the crew adrift, on the ship was a six years old boy, and he said that it was pretty rough at the time and he feared that they might not have made land.

HAS NOT BEEN INFORMED OF U. S. CASUALTIES

(By Associated Press)
Washington, July 25.—Secretary Baker has not been informed as to the loss of the American troops in the present great offensive. There is no doubt that he has taken General Pershing's silence on this score to indicate that the losses are not heavier than would be expected from the number used or the object for which they were seeking.

The German dispatch of the 10,000 American troops dead in front of their lines, is just to throw out for home consumption.

APPOINT TIME OF NEXT LIBERTY LOAN DRIVE

Washington, July 25.—The treasury virtually has decided to hold the fourth Liberty loan campaign in the three weeks' period between Saturday Sept. 28 and Saturday, October 13.

An announcement is expected this week in order to permit Liberty loan workers and business interests to arrange for the campaign.

The length of the drive will be reduced from the usual four weeks, as recommended by many Liberty loan workers, with the hope of averting the usual slump of interest in the middle of the campaign.

Extreme Penalties in Order.

After many weeks of patient and painstaking labor the Department of Justice has unearthed gigantic frauds in connection with contracts for supplying rubber overcoats for the soldiers. It is disclosed that there has been a revel of graft and bribery in which numerous army officers are involved. A number of important arrests have already been made and more are likely to follow.

This is a shocking piece of news, its only welcome feature being that the wheels of justice are turning, and turning effectively. There is every prospect that the guilty parties will be brought to justice, something that cannot be done too soon.

It is enough to make every honest American boil with indignation. In the rush of putting an army in the field and equipping it the government has been very liberal in its dealings with manufacturers of war materials of all sorts. It has freely admitted that it did not want or expect them to do business without profit. Under these circumstances it is exasperating in the extreme to learn that advantage has been taken of the government, which is disposed to deal fairly and liberally with all, and that among those engaged in the dirty work are army officers and government employees. It is said that among them are some majors and colonels.

As a result of the operations of this gang of grafters, by whom it is claimed that the government has been defrauded of millions of dollars, rubber overcoats have been supplied to the army which fell apart after being used a short time. So flagrant and widespread were these fraudulent operations that it became plain that there was crookedness somewhere, and machinery was set to work which has uncovered at least some of the crooks. Many of them have been placed under heavy bonds for trial at an early date, and it is to be believed that the trials will be thorough and the penalties swift and severe in all cases of conviction.

The men who have been practicing these frauds are more than dishonest. The yare brutal. Not only have they been wronging the government financially, but they have been foisting upon its defenders at the front overcoats which were practically worthless, thus exposing them to dangers which in a certain sense are greater than those presented by the enemy. There is not a father or mother of an American soldier whose blood did not boil when the facts in this damnable campaign of fraud were made public, nor is it necessary to have relatives in the army to be deeply stirred by such a disclosure.

Every manufacturer, every agent and every army officer who has had a hand in this dirty work is a disgrace to his country and should be not only mercilessly exposed to public censure, but subjected to condign punishment.

Let it be remembered that these men are not "German agents." They are men in positions of trust and responsibility, men who know right from wrong, and men of whom an example should be made that will preclude any further exploitations along similar lines.

That letter from Captain Christy of the San Diego, which was recently sunk off Fire Island, was very pleasing to the people of Portsmouth, who did much for the comfort and entertainment of the crew while the vessel was in this port. It shows that the work they were glad to do was fully appreciated by the brave young sailors, and there are times when appreciation is the best reward in the world.

The patriotic field day to be held at New Hampshire college in August should be an event of prime interest to the people of the state. As is known to all, army training is in progress there and all who attend will have an opportunity to see what is being done. Durham should overflow with patriotic visitors when the day comes.

Coal dealers who expect to remain in business must not neglect to report their transactions to headquarters as required by the regulations. Fair warning has been given and there will be trouble for those who fail to heed it.

"Keep the home clocks running" should be a popular slogan in Portsmouth until there is a general awakening to the fact that a dead town clock is mighty poor advertising for any town.

Portsmouth does not need a busier navy yard, but there is room here for a bigger one. It ought to be provided, and it will be if the government recognizes the opportunity that presents itself here.

There are no cold feet in the country just now except in a figurative sense. Summer was a little late in coming, but it has arrived.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

Duke Of France

(From the Washington Post)
General Sir Black Jack Pershing, G. C. B., never gets so many ribbons that he forgets to fight.

The Cheers That Really Count
(From the Detroit Free Press)
Next October you will have a real chance to celebrate what the Yanks have done at Chateau-Thierry by buying more Liberty Bonds.

A Rotten-Hearted Nation
(From the Manchester Record)
Let us never forget that the whole German nation is rotten-hearted, and that we are fighting not the military part alone, but the entire German race and even a Muehlen and a Michowsky do not redeem this Sodom and Gomorrah from the broad statement that the whole nation has sold its soul to the devil for the "lust of power and gain" individually and nationally.

A Way To Get Freight Moved
(From the Brooklyn Standard Union)
Landing freight cars to their capacity is one method which has been most successfully used in the effort to end congestion. Reports from various roads have spoken of the saving campaign to induce shippers to make in space and the consequent economy in cars which have resulted from the use of all the room there is in them. And doubtless, like a great many other changes which the war has wrought, the half-filled freight car has gone, never to return in the old time numbers.

Dark Nights Again
(From Brooklyn Standard Union)
Inasmuch as four dark nights a week will result in a greater abundance of coal to keep us warm next winter, the order of the Fuel Administration is approved. The shortage of fuel compels some sort of action and perhaps this is the best measure which can be adopted. But this shortage is due to incompetency at the head. Dr. Carfield has not done everything possible to avert a coal famine this coming winter. He has had ample time in which to meet the situation and should have profited by last winter's terrible experience. But he did not, consequently the nation now faces another fuel crisis. Of course, what should have been done was to mine more coal and then promptly transport it. But having failed, it becomes necessary to practice strict economy. Shutting off all but absolutely needed lights is one way of bettering the situation. Those who shivered last winter will not grumble over the new order, nor will they excuse the Fuel Administration for its shameful failure to deal with the situation as it should have been dealt with.

Disgraceful
(From the New York Evening Post)
For the second time within a few weeks men in uniform have been found walking the streets of New York without a place to sleep. A little while ago not less than two thousand, it was said, were known to have been in that plight, compelled to pass the night in parks or anywhere they could find a place to lie or sit. Saturday night, it is now reported, some thirty or forty sailors from the cruiser San Diego were found wandering about, not knowing where to go for food and beds. A friendly policeman took them in charge, found them supper and breakfast at near-by restaurants, and in the meantime induced the janitor of a theatre to open the building and let the men spend the night in the smoking room. It is said that the men who had been at Brooklyn Navy Yard, had been sent away for lack of room, and left to shift for themselves. "Doubtless an explanation may be looked for from the naval authorities. It is humiliating to think, however, that any considerable number of soldiers or sailors should find themselves for hours in this great city without a place to sleep or eat or rest. The various organizations which are doing so much for men in service have clearly a further opportunity to add to their activities.

WAS WEARING BADGE BUT HAD NO LICENSE

Junk Dealer Turns Business Over to Another Man Without Any Authority.

The police commission has under consideration the case called to the attention of the board by the police in which a junk license recently issued may be revoked. The police ran into a junk cart bearing no license number but the driver was wearing a regulation badge. The officers called him in for a talk with the chief of police and it was found that he had no license at all and was not on the list of regular junk dealers. He stated that he was handling the business for another man who held a regular license. The regular dealer was ordered to appear on the carpet and explain his system of business. He told the board that he was sick and thought the other man could handle the business better than he, so he let him have the badge and wagon. At present neither of them are doing any business and the licensed junk man is liable to lose his rights for this violation of the rules.

TWO WOMEN WANTED HERE HELD IN BOSTON

Did Some Shoplifting in This City; Police Recover Much Stolen Property.

Angelina Bussello and Cornelia Ravello, two professional shoplifters, members of a crew following that line who are wanted in this city, were sentenced in the second session of municipal court in Boston on Thursday by Judge Dowd to one year in the house of correction. They were charged with receiving stolen goods.

These two women lately visited Portsmouth and in company with a local woman visited several stores where they managed to get away with about $80.

Regardless of the fact that the local police could learn nothing from the Portsmouth woman who was associated with them in the stealing expedition in this city, the officers did a good job in running them down and causing their arrest in Boston. Before the extradition papers could be executed by the authorities turning the women over to the local police, the court at Boston sentenced them and they appealed. The local police will be obliged to wait until the case is disposed of in Massachusetts in September.

The Boston police recovered goods estimated at $500 or more which was stolen in Lynn, Lowell, Portsmouth and other cities by this organized gang of female shoplifters.

Following the ceremony everybody present at the same was invited to partake in a joyride and they all bundled into ten automobiles and they went.

The married couple occupied the first machine which was followed by the other nine machines. Each auto was decorated with evergreen and flowers and bore various signs and tags.

They came to this city and spent much time looking over the sights of the surrounding country.

They quit the machines long enough to have lunch and finally started back to the home of the bride and groom.

The entire party posed for the camera man while on the trip.

BIRTHDAY PARTY AND ENTERTAINMENT

In recognition of her birthday anniversary Miss Nellie Dolan was pleasantly surprised last evening at the summer home on Salter street of Captain W. I. Hand of Boston by a party of friends who came to assist her in observing the occasion.

A bounteous lunch served in the dining room during the evening added pleasant interest to the occasion. The adornings of the room were entirely in the national colors and most effective.

Miss Dolan, who is private secretary of Captain Hand, was presented with a diamond ring and other anniversary gifts and graciously responded, thanking the donors for the tributes and the friendship expressed. At a late hour all left for their homes, having derived much enjoyment from the anniversary event.

Recently Retired

CHIEF OF THE U. S. SECRET SERVICE

Today the first episode of this wonderfully thrilling serial of international importance begins. Written by Chief Flynn, based on facts, many until now unheard of, this great twenty-episode picture shows with startling realism and truthfulness the intimate inner workings of the Imperial German Government's plan in America.

The plot to destroy the "Lusitania," the conspiracy to dynamite the Hotel Ansonia in New York the night of the American Naval Ball, the plan to torpedo the Atlantic Fleet on review before President Wilson in New York Harbor—bomb plots, labor agitation, and a multitude of other ruthless plans, all told in Chief Flynn's own story. Don't miss this first-episode.

The actual details of how the torpedoing of the "Lusitania" was planned and executed by Imperial German agents in America.

PLANES AND CHASERS OUT IN FORCE

Officials of the First Naval District made every effort yesterday to locate the enemy submarine which has been operating off the New England coast for the last three days. Following the sinking of the Gloucester schooner Robert and Richard of the coast of Maine on Monday, scores of seaplanes, submarine chasers and boats of greater power were ordered out to patrol the coast and protect shipping.

It was realized that the submarine has had plenty of time to travel many miles since it was last seen sixty-five miles off Cape Porpoise. At that time the boat was headed south and it would not surprise naval men to hear that the submarine had bobbed up somewhere along the Massachusetts coast or farther south. Naval and marine men are inclined to the opinion that one submarine has been in New England waters. Descriptions given by crews of sunken craft would indicate that there are two, however. Men aboard the barges attacked off Cape Cod on Sunday reported the submarine to be 400 feet long, while the fishermen aboard the Robert and Richard placed the length of the submarine at 250 feet.

Identification of the "distressed" steamer reported off Nantucket as a ship injured in an explosion several months ago in a North Atlantic port, exploded the theory that a submarine was active in that locality and strengthened the contention that only one submarine is operating off the New England coast. Maritime believe that after attacking the barge s. off Cape Cod the undersea boat went north until it attacked the defenceless fishing schooner. Unlike the attack upon the barges, the fishing schooner was warned and the crew allowed to leave the ship without danger. Only one shot was fired by the submarine.

The P. A. C. defeated the Army on Thursday evening in the Sunset league schedule by the score of 9 to 3. For the first three innings it looked like a real game, but in the fourth and fifth the former champions rolled up eight runs.

Lear pitched for the P. A. C. and he was a little wild but kept the Army down to six hits only two of which figured in the three runs that they got. Cutting pitched for the Army and his support was not of the best. Smith was hurt in the fifth inning going to second and had to retire. Clair played his usual good game at third for the soldiers. Lynch a new man for the P. A. C. covered third base accepting five of his six chances.

There was no scoring until the fourth inning, when the P. A. C. began action by Harrington knocking out a home run. Barker fled to Morrison, Howard was hit, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and home on an error by Clair. Jordan walked, stole second, got to third on a wild pitch and scored when Stone allowed Murray's hit to go through him. Lynch fled to right, Lear drew a pass and stole second. Thomas also walked filling the bases. McPherson's error through with a three base hit scoring three runs, but Harrington on his second time up fanned.

In the fifth on a combination of a base on balls, a stolen base and a hit with an error, letted them two more runs. In the sixth after Lear was struck out, Thomas was safe on Stone's fumble and he stole second and third and scored on Harrington's single.

The Army got across one run in the fourth. Clair drew a pass, Dowd fled to Lynch, Hickman was thrown out at first and on Howard's overthrow to second Clair came home in the seventh after two men had been retired. Walter who succeeded Smith was hit and he scored on Thomas's three base drive and Thomas scored on Stone's two base hit Clair retiring the side on a fly to Lynch.

PRESIDENT WILSON ISSUES A WARNING

That "every mob contributes to Germany lies about the United States what her most gifted liars cannot improve upon by way of calumny."

The President's statement in full follows:

"My Fellow Countrymen:— I take the liberty of addressing you upon a subject which so vitally affects the honor of the nation and the very character and integrity of our institutions that I trust you will think me justified in speaking very plainly about it.

"I allude to the mob spirit which has recently here and there very frequently shown its head amongst us, not in any single region, but in many and widely separated parts of the country. There have been many lynchings, and every one of them has been a blow at the heart of ordered law and humane justice. No man who loves America, no man who really cares for her fame and honor and character, or who is truly loyal to her institutions, can justify mob action while the courts of justice are open and the governments of the states and the nation are ready and able to do their duty. We are at this very moment fighting lawless passion. Germany has outwitted herself among the nations because she has disregarded the sacred obligations of law and has made Lynchers of her armies. Lynchers emulate her disgraceful example. I for my part, am anxious to see every community in America rise above that level, with pride and a fixed resolution which no man or set of men can afford to despise.

"We proudly claim to be the champions of democracy. If we really are, in deed and in truth, let us see to it that we do not discredit our own. I say plainly that every American who takes part in the action of a mob or gives any sort of countenance to a mob or to this great democracy, but it is a betrayer, and does more to discredit her by that single display to her standards of law and right, than the words of her statesmen or the sacrifices of her heroes. Boys in the trenches can do to make suffering peoples believe her to be their saviour. How shall we commend democracy to the acceptance of other peoples, if we disgrace our own by proving that it is, after all, no protection to the weak? Every mob contributes to Germany, lies about the United States, what her most gifted liars cannot improve upon by the way of calumny. They can at least say that such things cannot happen in Germany except in times of revolution, when law is swept away!

"I therefore very earnestly and solemnly beg that the governors of all the states, the law officers of every community, and, above all, the men and women of every community in the United States, all who love America and wish to keep her name with out stain or reproach, will co-operate—not passively merely, but actively and watchfully—to make an end of this disgraceful evil. It cannot live where the community does not countenance it.

"I have called upon the nation to put its great energy into this war and it has responded—responded with a spirit and a genius for action that has thrilled the world. I now call upon it, upon its men and women everywhere, to see to it that its laws are kept inviolate, its fame untarnished. Let us show our utter contempt for the things that have made this war hideous among the peoples of history by slaying how those who love liberty and right and justice and are willing to lay down their lives for their own foreign fields stand ready also to illustrate to all mankind their loyalty to all things at home which they wish to see established everywhere, as a blessing and protection to the peoples who have known the privilege of liberty and self government.

"I can not deny that any man who is a champion of liberty, either for ourselves or for the world, who respects reverence and obeys the laws for our own beloved land, in whose ways we ourselves have made. He has adopted the standards of the enemies of his country, whom he affects to despise."

WOODROW WILSON.

New Perfection Oil Stoves

It is nice to have a servant at one's beck and call; a cook in the kitchen, a maid in the hall. If you and I were privileged, however, to look into the kitchens of many of Portsmouth's homes tonight, the hired cooks would probably be conspicuous by their absence and, instead, we'd find members of the families attending to the culinary chores.

We'd probably find also, not the disorder and confusion that the humorists like to write about and the cartoonists dearly love to portray, but some mighty happy and contented women looking after their household affairs and proud of the privilege.

To whichever class you may belong, it is a pretty well settled fact that a Blue Flame, New Perfection stove would add—if you do not already possess such an article—much to the comfort and convenience of your housewifery duties.

Not only is the New Perfection a super-stove in convenient arrangement, but its construction makes it rank above all others. Ask the woman who has one how it saves her the worries and perplexities of the hot kitchen in summer. Let us show you the stove, cabinet, oven and the good things that go with them.

NO SUCH HELP WANTED AT THE LOCAL NAVY YARD

Sanford Man Would Open Civilian Jails and Put Prisoners at Work at Portsmouth.

The following dispatch to a Boston paper did not meet with the approval of the navy yard officials today. The dispatch was dated Sanford, Me., and reads as follows:

"Because of the scarcity of men to work at the Portsmouth Navy Yard, Ex-Sheriff N. T. Fogg of Sanford, who is in charge of hiring laborers, suggests that short-term men in the county jails of Maine be paroled and compelled to work for the Government. Mr. Fogg states that the Government needs 1000 men at the navy yard and despite the fact that 40 cents an hour is paid and 60 cents an hour overtime it is impossible to get enough help.

"There are a large number of short-term prisoners in the county jails in Maine, many of whom were unable to pay their fines, and these could be put to work and made to pay the fines and be doing a service for their country at the same time," he said. As it is now these men are idle in the jails and are an expense to the people of the county.

Mr. Fogg has taken the shortage of help question up with the United States Labor Bureau at Portland.

This recommendation on the part of the Ex-York county interfering of official sounds like a dream.

Today when Naval Constructor Adams, the general manager of the Industrial Department, heard of the plan of Mr. Fogg to open the Maine jails and transfer convicts to the navy yard he was a much surprised man.

He stated that he never heard of such a thing and never met the former sheriff.

He was emphatic in declaring that Portsmouth navy yard was not open to civilian prisoners.

It seems that if the government was in such need that there would be need of releasing prisoners from Maine jails as the navy has prisoners enough of its own on the reservation and some of the 2000 or so under Thomas Mott Osborne could be put to work. However, nothing of the kind is anticipated any further than the work that government prisoners are already performing.
